To receive Federal Student Aid (FSA) a student must be qualified to study at the postsecondary level. FSA applicants who have not graduated from high school or earned a GED are required to show an ability to benefit from college-level instruction. On your FAFSA, you answered the question of high school completion either blank or as “other.” In order to receive Federal Student Aid, you must complete and return this form.

A student qualifies as showing an ability to benefit if he or she is a US Citizen or Permanent Resident and:

- Has a high school diploma (this can be from a foreign high school if it is equivalent to a U.S. high school diploma).
- Has the recognized equivalent of a high school diploma, such as a GED
- Has completed homeschooling at the secondary level
- Has passed a Department approved ATB test.
- Satisfactorily completed 60 credits of college work that are applicable to a degree or certificate offered by the school.

Please complete the following questions:

1. I have a High School Diploma. YES NO
2. I have a GED YES NO
3. I have completed homeschooling at the secondary level YES NO
4. I have satisfactorily completed 60 credits of college work YES NO
