PREFACE

Welcome to the Shelby and Ferne Collinsworth School of Music at California Baptist University!

You will be exploring music this year through your involvement as a Music Major, Music Minor, or in your work toward the Single Subject Matter Competence in Music (credential). We hope that your musical years will be stimulating, rewarding, exciting, and fulfilling. We want to encourage you to strive toward the fullest development of your capacities as a spiritual being and musician.

Accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music, the CBU School of Music offers an exceptional education for those planning to pursue careers in performance, music composition, music education, or in many aspects of the music industry. In addition to a highly regarded music curriculum and unmatched performance opportunities, the School of Music gives students the benefits of studying at a comprehensive Christian university and a collegiate experience that is second-to-none.

Annually, the music program publishes a handbook to acquaint students with the faculty and academic programs. This handbook will help you better understand some of the requirements and procedures that specifically pertain to our program. The information contained in this handbook should be used in conjunction with the current University Catalog/Undergraduate. Read these two documents carefully – they contain answers to many of the questions you will have.

If questions do arise, do not hesitate to ask the appropriate faculty member. Students are urged to consult with faculty members about any problem relative to their work at the University.

We are happy that you have chosen to make the Collinsworth School of Music at California Baptist University your home, and look forward to working with you, both educationally and spiritually.

MUSIC PROGRAM DESCRIPTION and MISSION

The School of Music supports the liberal arts tradition of the University. The mission of the School of Music at California Baptist University is to create a Christ-based learning environment that provides the highest order of education in all essential aspects of music, to establish a foundation for life-long growth in music, and to offer programs and degrees that are tradition-based and future-oriented.

School of Music Goals:

1. To provide a high quality of music education and training for undergraduate and graduate students
2. To equip students with performance and theoretical musical skills that will enable them to be successful musicians
3. To help students gain a historical/cultural perspective on the world of music
4. To encourage critical thinking about music (i.e. analysis, critical listening, performance evaluation)
5. To enable students to grow musically, so that they not only leave CBU with a better understanding of music than when they arrived, but also can communicate music to a wide and diverse populace.

The School of Music offers a Bachelor of Music degree. Besides the music major curriculum, and Single Subject Matter Competence in Music, students may also explore music through the music minor or through courses offered for the general student body.

The Music Program is a member of and fully accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM).

BACHELOR of MUSIC DEGREE

The Bachelor of Music degree provides an appropriate background for students who may have career aspirations as teachers, musicians, church music leaders, or who plan to make music an avocation upon completion of their coursework. This music degree may equip the student for graduate work in music, depending upon the choice of graduate institution. Classes and performing experiences enable students to know, understand, perform and teach diverse musical styles. Dr. Gary Bonner, Dean of the Collinsworth School of Music, is committed to providing new and unique opportunities for his students to grow and reach their full potential.

Admission to Music Major or Minor is determined by the following:

- Performance Audition
- Music Theory Placement Exam
The results of this theory and aural skills exam determine placement within the music theory sequence.

Music Majors and Minors will be subject to a yearly review by music faculty to determine the student's continuation in the program.

SINGLE SUBJECT MATTER COMPETENCE in MUSIC

Please note that the School of Music is currently (Fall 2012) preparing to submit an application for approval of the Single Subject Matter Program in Music from the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. Music Education students who complete all elements of the program can expect to meet the Music Single Subject Requirements and receive subsequent approval to enter the Credential program retroactively once the new program is approved. It is conceivable, however, that additional requirements must be met until the major requirements have been revised to reflect the new standards. The Music Subject Matter Requirements may also be fulfilled by passing the CSET exam in music.

The Subject Matter Preparation Program in Music prepares students for a career in teaching music in elementary and secondary schools within the state of California. In the view of the university, public education is one of the most crucial aspects of American life. Those who want to enter this field must first demonstrate a strong capacity for teaching, an enlightened vision of the educational enterprise, and a commitment to seek the training necessary to fulfill the responsibility. Each student admitted to the program will be expected to demonstrate a thorough understanding not only of the subject matter itself, but also of the vocation of an educator. The program has been designed specifically to prepare future teachers to communicate to their students the value and significance of music in a variety of human cultures and contexts.

Subject Matter Preparation Program in Music (16-17 units)

This “Commission-approved teacher preparation program” curriculum is designed for those students who will be seeking Single Subject Teaching Credential in Music from the State of California (see www.ctc.ca.gov). Students interested in teaching should contact their Faculty Advisor in the School of Music for advising. In addition to meeting these requirements, students should contact the Teacher Education Credential Program within the School of Education.

Subject Matter Assessment

Prior to being recommended to enter the fifth year program for the Single Subject Teaching Credential in Music, candidates must successfully pass a subject matter assessment. The assessment, in the form of an interview, will be done near the end of the senior year.

Minor in Music

The Minor in Music affords students the opportunity to continue their music education and improve their musical skills and knowledge while pursuing a major other than music. The 30 units of lower and upper division music courses are designed to insure a well-balanced curriculum, focusing in areas of music theory, music history and performance.

The following represents a four-year plan for music courses to be taken by students who wish to complete a Music Minor. This plan reflects music courses taken in sequence. Please note that General Education requirements are not included below (please see the University Catalog: Undergraduate or an academic advisor).

LOCKERS

Lockers are available for instrumental students only who are participating in one or more School of Music ensembles. Lockers may be checked out for student use in the School of Music Office. The School of Music will provide padlocks. Personally owned padlocks are not permitted and will be removed. Lockers must be cleared of all materials and padlocks must be returned to the School of Music office by the end of finals week.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

Ensemble members or music students receiving a music scholarship are required to make normal academic progress in their academic studies. Normal academic progress is defined as enrolling in and successfully completing the proper sequence of courses listed in the current School of Music Handbook each semester. Students not complying with departmental procedures, or not making satisfactory progress toward their declared major will have their scholarship status reviewed by the School of Music faculty. This review can occur at any point during the semester. Music scholarships are awarded on a semester-by-semester basis only.

Music Scholarships: The School of Music at CBU offers a number of scholarships for performance in any of its ensembles. Accompanist scholarships are also available. Auditions for available openings are held throughout the year. All students receiving a music scholarship, of any kind, are required to participate in the appropriate ensemble each semester of residency. For requirements and an audition appointment, please call the School of Music office.

Brenda K. Smith Memorial Scholarship: A deserving voice major(s) is selected to receive this award. It was established in memory of Brenda Smith, an outstanding vocal music major. Amount is variable. Applications are available in the Financial Aid office.

S. E. Boyd Smith Scholarship: This scholarship is awarded to qualified piano or organ students. Amount is variable. Applications are available in the Financial Aid office.

California Singing Churchwomen Scholarship: This scholarship is awarded to a female music student planning to work in church music either vocationally or as an avocation. Applications are available in the Financial Aid office.

Awards: Each year at the Annual Honors Day Convocation a Music Program Award is given. The criteria for selection of the recipient are: graduating senior with grade point average of at least 3.7, number of semesters attending CBU, growth and development as a musician and contribution to the Music Program. An award is also given to the Outstanding Music Student who has demonstrated outstanding musical growth and has contributed positively to the program and department.

DORIAN SOCIETY

The Dorian Society, a student organization, is the CBU Collegiate Chapter of MENC (The National Association for Music Education). The purpose is to develop participation in professional activities as the students prepare to be Music Educators. Membership is required for all students with a concentration in Music Education and is open to other interested students. For information contact Dr. Stephen Posegate, Coordinator of Music Education.

PRIVATE INSTRUCTION Vocal & Instrumental

Private Instruction is offered with material and performance of increasing difficulty as the student develops. Private Instruction will be required of any student receiving an annual music scholarship of $4,000 or more. That is, a student may not take Instrumental or Voice Practicum and receive a $4,000 music scholarship. A minimum of 12 lessons and performance at a faculty jury are required. The course may be repeated until the requirement is fulfilled. Service Playing (MUS 230) does NOT fulfill the MUS 080 requirement for the music major or music minor. Prerequisite for applied organ: formal piano training and music reading ability.

The School of Music will post Private Instructors' schedules during rehearsal camp. Students must sign up with a Private Instructor by the end of Add/Drop in order to secure a teacher. Any student who has not signed up with a teacher by the end of that period — for any reason — will receive an automatic failing grade in Private Instruction without exception.

Lesson Requirements: In order to receive credit in Private Instruction (MUS 080-089, 460-469), a student must have attended 12 scheduled lessons in a semester and perform for the faculty jury. Punctuality for lessons is required. Students who are tardy will receive only the remainder of their lesson time. Students who habitually miss lessons or are unprepared for lessons will, at the discretion of the teacher, be asked to drop the course or risk a grade of D or F. The studio teacher will establish other lesson requirements, including repertoire.

Incompletes will not be given in Private Instruction except in the case of exceptional illness or extreme circumstances. If an Incomplete (I) is assigned for the semester grade, it is the student's responsibility to make-up the jury within six weeks.

Practice Requirements: Private Instruction is designed to encourage the student in a life of self-disciplined practice, which continues after graduation when there is no longer responsibility to a particular academic routine. With this in mind, the following standards are noted: practice hour requirements are directly related to the amount of credit given. A half-hour lesson (one unit of credit) assumes a minimum of one hour of practice every day. A one-hour lesson (two units credit) assumes a minimum of two hours of practice every day.

Absences: If absence from a lesson is anticipated, the student should notify the teacher at least 24 hours in advance. If a student is unavoidably detained and misses a lesson, the student should notify the teacher directly as soon as possible. If prior notice is given, or there are extenuating circumstances, the teacher may make up the lesson at his/her discretion. If no notice is given, the lesson will not be made up. In the case of a lesson missed by a teacher, the lesson will be made up as soon as a mutually acceptable time is available

Purchasing books: It is the responsibility of the Private Instruction student to obtain original scores for lessons. The use of copied music is not permitted except for jury exams (one time "fair use" for nonprofit educational purposes*). Scores may be purchased, checked out from the library, or printed off from CD Sheet Music CD-ROMs (available in the Annie Gabriel library).

*Copyright Law of the United States, Title 17, Section 107, October 2007.

Jury Exams: The School of Music requires all students registered in Private Instruction to appear before a jury board held during the final examination period at the end of each semester. Jury Sheets will be made available during the two weeks before final exams. It is the student's responsibility to complete a Jury Sheet with the composers and titles of the compositions studied during the semester (and other information as requested) and present multiple copies of this sheet at the time of the student's appointment. Students are to be responsible for information on the composers, style of pieces and translations of all songs. Instrumental students must also bring to the jury exam photocopies of the music to be performed for each member of the jury panel. A jury exam may be required of Voice or Instrumental Practicum students at the discretion of the instructor.

The student is responsible for signing up for a jury time on the posted Jury Schedule. The Jury Exam Schedule will be posted within the last two weeks of scheduled classes each semester.

Students who are performing a Senior Recital are exempt from juries for the semester in which the recital is given.

Grading: The final semester grade in Private Instruction is comprised of the student's Semester Work (50%) and the Jury Performance Average (50%). The grading standards for the Semester Work in lessons are as follows:

Objective Standards:

- Regular lesson assignments prepared
- Continuous achievement of minimum requirements as outlined by the teacher
- Consistent daily practice
- Punctuality at lessons

Subjective Standards:

- Musical sensitivity and interpretive abilities
- Student attitude and effort
- Continuous growth and development of musicianship
- Increasing mastery of performance techniques

Accompanist: The voice/instrumental student's first priority must be to secure an accompanist for his or her weekly lesson time and to plan on working with that accompanist to select a mutually agreeable jury time at the end of the semester. As the purpose of a jury is to show the student's work for the semester, the importance of working with an accompanist on a regular basis rather than asking a pianist to sight-read music at juries cannot be overstated. If it is not possible for the student to work with an accompanist during the semester, it is still the student's responsibility to find an accompanist for his or her jury exam.

The School of Music pays accompanists for one half-hour session per week of the semester. Accompanists may choose to meet more frequently with the students they are accompanying, but they will not be reimbursed for that extra time.

STUDENT RECITALS

Student Recital Participation: All students taking Private Instruction are required to perform on one Friday morning Student Recital per academic year. Failure to perform as assigned will result in lowering the Private Instruction grade by one letter. Students may perform only with the permission of their applied teachers and are required to submit Recital Performance Forms to the Music Office at least one week before the recital date. Voice and Instrumental Practicum students may be encouraged to participate in Student Recitals at the discretion of the instructor.

Student Recital Attendance: All music majors and minors are required to attend 75% of all on-campus School of Music-sponsored recitals and concerts (including, but not limited to, Friday morning recitals) offered each semester. The actual number of recitals may vary each semester. Students should stay informed by checking in the School of Music Office where a list of approved recital dates is posted.

Concert Music is required of music majors and minors who fail to meet the Recital Attendance requirement for any semester in residence (see School of Music office). The requirements for Concert Music must be fulfilled by the following semester. The instructor will assign a number of concerts to attend each requiring written critiques. Failure to meet the Concert Music requirements may result in dismissal from the music program.

PERFORMANCE LEVELS

During the jury process, the music faculty will evaluate the music major's progress on his/her primary instrument and assign a Performance Level based on specific criteria described in the Performance Level Rubric (available from the student's instructor) for each instrument or voice. The first Performance Level (L1) and subsequent performance levels are obtained only after the criteria have been met/demonstrated in the jury. There are five Performance Levels (L1-L5) for undergraduates. Performance Level 0 (L0) will be assigned to students who fail to meet the criteria for the first level. Satisfactory and exemplary progress may result in the Performance Level being raised. Unsatisfactory progress may result in the Performance Level remaining the same as the previous semester.

SOPHOMORE REVIEW

All music majors must pass a Sophomore Review at the end of their second year by demonstrating advancing technical and musical skill. Failure to pass the Sophomore Review indicates that the student has not progressed sufficiently to continue in the program. Recommendations will be made to the student who has not passed the Sophomore Review which may include the following: 1. changing majors; 2. taking additional private instruction units; 3. increasing the amount of time the student spends practicing. Students will be notified by the Dean when they have passed the Sophomore Review.

The Sophomore Review requires that the following criteria have been met by the end of the second year:

1) During jury exams, Performance majors (Instrumental, Piano, and Vocal) must attain Performance Level 3 (L3). Composition, Keyboard Accompanying, and Music Education majors must attain Performance Level 2 (L2).

2) All music majors must perform in at least two student recitals.

3) All music majors must pass all of the Technical Skills listed in Part I of the Piano Proficiency exam (see page 29) earning 10 of the 15 points possible.

SENIOR RECITALS

Performance majors (Instrumental, Piano, and Vocal) must attain Performance Level 5 (L5) by the end of the fall semester of their senior year. Composition, Keyboard Accompanying, and Music Education majors must attain Performance Level 4 (L4) by the end of the fall semester of their Senior year. Reaching the appropriate Performance Level is considered a prerequisite for enrollment in MUS 431, the Senior Recital class.

All music majors must be enroll in MUS 431 and perform a Senior Recital on their primary instrument or voice during their senior year only after achieving the appropriate Performance Level and passing all portions of the Piano Proficiency exam (15 points). Students must also be enrolled in Private Instruction in their primary instrument or voice during the semester they intend to perform their Senior Recital in order to facilitate rehearsals, hearings and recitals.

Senior Recital Length is determined by concentration. Performance majors are expected to give a 60-minute Senior Recital. Music Education and Keyboard Accompanying majors are expected to give a 30-minute recital. Composition majors are expected to give a 30-minute portfolio performance of original compositions and arrangements. Appropriate Senior Recital repertoire is recommended by the instructor and approved by Dr. Angela Brand (MUS 431). Repertoire must include a variety of musical styles from all historical periods. Typically, jazz, pop and Contemporary Christian pieces or songs are not considered acceptable recital material.

Senior Recital Dates: The date for your Senior Recital must be scheduled in conjunction with your private instructor, all participants in your recital, and the School of Music office. Except in the case of extreme emergency, once a date is selected it must be held (unless postponement is recommended by the music faculty following your Pre-Recital Hearing). Senior Recitals may be given during the Fall and Spring semesters only.

Fees/DVDs: A recording fee or $100 is required two weeks prior to your recital. This is per recitalist not per recital. The fee includes the use of one camera ($40 per extra camera requested) and is for on-campus recitals only (off campus events will require additional funds). There is a $10 fee for each additional DVD. Rooms will be set up with standard lighting and seating; no additional audio equipment will be provided. You may obtain a copy of your recital ten business days after your recital.

Rehearsals: All rehearsals that require use of a room in the School of Music building must be scheduled through the School of Music office.

Pre-Recital Hearing: Pre-Recital Hearings must be scheduled by the end of the second week of the semester. After consulting with your private instructor and accompanist (if applicable), select three possible dates and times for your hearing and submit them to Dr. Angela Brand (MUS 431). A faculty committee in your concentration will be selected for you and will adjudicate your Pre-Recital Hearing. The Pre-Recital Hearing must take place no later than one month before the Senior Recital date. The entire recital must be fully prepared and memorized (when appropriate), and presented to the music faculty in the Pre-Recital Hearing. Appropriate attire is expected. At the hearing, students must also submit a printed program (see Senior Recital Programs below). The student may be asked to edit, augment, and/or improve upon the program based on the recommendation of the committee. The revised program must be submitted electronically to the School of Music office within 2 days following the hearing. Failure to do so may put the student at risk of losing the recital date, necessitating postponement. The faculty committee will provide you with a written and verbal evaluation of your Pre-Recital Hearing performance and will recommend any area(s) that may need special attention prior to your Senior Recital. Immediately following the Pre-Recital Hearing, the committee will confer and will either:

- 1) APPROVE your recital (meaning that you may proceed with your recital preparations),
- 2) Ask you to POSTPONE your recital until a semester in the future (meaning that they feel you will be ready with more work; in this case, you will need to re-schedule your recital and schedule another Pre-Recital Hearing with the same material), OR
- 3) DECLINE your recital (meaning that your performance is not recital-ready).

Senior Recital Programs: Students must submit a complete printed program at the Pre-Recital Hearing. Within 2 days following a successful Pre-Recital Hearing, students must submit an electronic version (.doc or .docx) of their recital program to the School of Music office that includes any revisions recommended by the committee. Programs should include composition titles, composers, composers' dates, arrangers (if applicable), name(s) of the accompanist or other musicians (if applicable), translations and program notes. The School of Music will provide copies of the approved program for the recital. Detailed instructions and procedures may be found in the syllabus for MUS 431 Senior Recital/Project.

Senior Recital Performance Attire: Since the purpose of public performance is to give the student practice in proper stage deportment and other artistic aims, dress and conduct are important. Senior recitals require a formal dress for women, and dark suits or tuxedos for men.

PIANO PROFICIENCY EXAM

All music majors and minors are required to pass the Piano Proficiency exam, which is an assessment of keyboard skills the student will find invaluable to his/her future as a musician—whether as a teacher, performer, church musician or in some other music-related capacity. The Piano Proficiency exam consists of major and minor scales, major and minor arpeggios, primary progressions, harmonization, transposition, score reading, sight-reading, and a solo performance (not from memory). All music major and minors are required to be enrolled in piano instruction until the Piano Proficiency exam is passed.

The Piano Proficiency exam is offered in the middle of the semester and during finals week. Students may elect to perform the entire exam or selected skills during this time. The entire Piano Proficiency exam (15 points) must be passed in order for the student to be eligible for Registration in MUS 431 (Senior Recital class) and for graduation.

The various skills have been given a point value totaling 15 points. This is not intended to indicate priority or a level of importance, as all of the skills indicated below must be mastered. The student should prepare and attempt to pass various skills totaling 5 points per semester. A minimum of 3 points must be passed each semester in order to receive an “A” in the class (Functional Piano, Private Instruction or Class Piano).

Sign-up sheets for the Piano Proficiency exam will be posted at least one week before the exam occurs each semester. Students who are interested in taking the exam in part or in whole must sign up for an exam time. Those who sign up will be given a packet that includes information regarding Piano Proficiency skills including harmonization, transposition, and score reading.

Freshman music majors with limited keyboard skills should enroll in Class Piano I (offered in fall semesters) and Class Piano II (spring semesters). In addition to developing keyboard skills, these classes are closely tied to the Music Theory Musicianship Labs. This enables the student to experience his/her theory studies from another perspective. Freshman music majors and minors with a piano emphasis (i.e. primary instrument is piano), or major who have had a great deal of piano background (as determined by the Piano Faculty), are advised to begin their piano studies in the applied music setting (taking Private Instruction or Functional Piano).

The results of each student’s Piano Proficiency exam are kept on file in the School of Music office. Each student will be notified of his/her results every time the exam is taken. It is the student’s responsibility to see that the Piano Proficiency requirements are fulfilled as soon as possible. Additional portions of the exam may be taken during any semester in which the student feels ready.
